Post Office Will Not Go on Church Site

Where will the Campbell post office go?

The answer to this question which appeared to have been definitely settled last March, after a number of preliminary skirmishes as to location, this week again became anyone's guess.

This guessing contest became wide open when it was reported that the P. O. department would again seek bidders for a building, but this time without any prior land arrangement.

After more than a year of on-again, off-again negotiations, the location of a new post office building for Campbell now is apparently no closer to a solution than it was when the P.O. department announced last December for the first time that a new post office would go on Central Ave. near Grant Ave. where it had obtained a land option.

Church Property

Negotiations for a building at this location were called off when the old Methodist Church property at Campbell Ave. and First St. became available. Subsequently, a land option was obtained for this site and bids were asked on a lease arrangement for builders. The post office location question, however, was up in the air this week after a series of fast-breaking developments.

Henry Jewell, local real estate agent, and Oliver Jensen, local contractor on Monday announced that they had voluntarily withdrawn their property (the old Methodist Church property at Campbell Ave. and First St.) from any further consideration as a possible site for a new post office.

They explained that their land option agreement with the post office department expired on Monday. They added that they felt it was useless to continue negotiations and extend the option period because apparently it was impossible to reach an equitable lease agreement with the postal officials. They pointed out that the property had been tied up with the department on the land option for 270 days. They also announced that they had other plans for developing the property commercially.

Will Seek Bids

As a result of the withdrawal of Jewell and Jensen, Harold J. Cooke, head of the real estate section of the P.O. department in San Francisco, told The Press that it planned to ask for bids for a post office building within a few weeks.

He explained that prospective bidders would have to follow the general plans for a building outlined by the department and that the location must also be approved by postal authorities. He added, however, that the department would not seek any land option for a site as it had done in the past two instances.

Change in Plans

In announcing that they had withdrawn their proposal to build a post office building on the old Methodist Church property at Campbell Ave. and First St., Henry Jewell and Oliver Jensen, owners of the site, told the Planning Commission Tuesday that they would submit an alternate plan to the Commission for a commercial development of the property at the next meeting, December 17.

Tentative plans at present, they said, call for an approximate 50 car parking lot off First St. plus two commercial buildings. Immediate plans, however, they added, do not include any change in the church building itself. They assured the Planners, however, that the church structure is to be either removed or remodeled in the future

Council Applies For Federal Aid

Acting on the recommendation of the Planning Commission, the City Council on Monday approved the expenditure of $3,750 if that sum is matched by the Federal government, for a long-range, comprehensive municipal master plan.

The Council had already budgeted the $3,750 for a master plan survey and the formal application for Federal funds was forwarded Monday.

The project as outlined by Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, would include a land use plan, circulation plan, plans showing standards of population and building intensity, recreation areas plans, public buildings and a study of the central business district and a six-year capital improvement plan.

Pro Grid Star

Friends Honor Campbell's Billy Wilson this Sunday

BILLY WILSON
. . . His day Sunday

Billy Wilson, Campbell's contribution to the professional football ranks, will have his day at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco this Sunday when his fans and friends from the Santa Clara Valley converge on the bay city by bus, train and car to honor the star end of the San Francisco 49'ers.

As an incidental detail to the "Billy Wilson Day", the 49ers tangle with the Baltimore Colts in a game that may have considerable bearing on the western division championship.

Gabe Mancuso of San Jose is chairman of the "Billy Wilson Day" festivities. He reports that the former Campbell High and San Jose State grid star will be honored with gifts totalling more than $4,000.

Two chartered buses, each to be filled with 40 rabid football fans from Campbell, will be among the 32 busloads that will move into San Francisco Sunday from the Santa Clara Valley. Others fortunate enough to obtain ducats for the grid battle will go to the game by other means. Mancuso reports that three buses will leave from the Villa Felice and three also from Live Oak Inn.

Locally the Campbell Rotary Club is sponsoring one bus and Tony Raffanti's Busy Bee the other. The Rotary bus will leave from the Greyhound bus terminal in San Jose at 11 a.m., while Tony's bus leaves from the Busy Bee at about the same time. Bill Perry heads the Cambpell Rotary contingent.

Wilson, who is a Campbell area resident, in his off season, is a member of the Willow Glen Kiwanis Club and five busloads have been sponsored by that club. Three loads will come from Castro Valley and three from Watsonville, while others will be filled by San Jose and Santa Clara residents.

Mancuso said that more than 150 are expected at the banquet at Rickey's in Palo Alto after the game when Benny Lujan, Campbell High student body president and Albert Smith, student affairs counselor at the school, will present Wilson with a plaque from Campbell High for outstanding achievement. Billy was a member of the championship Buc squad of 1944.

Billy Wilson Day, started more or less on an impromptu basis last summer by a group of his friends, has snowballed into a major event. The original group, headed by Mancuso, the chairman, purchased 1500 tickets which they in turn sold in blocks of 40 to clubs and bars. Each ticket buyer contributed to the Billy Wilson fund and more than $4,000 was raised in this manner for the gifts.

It was announced this week by 49er officials, that Kezar is completely sold out for the encounter Sunday when more than 60,000 fans will be howling for a 49er victory in which they expect Number 84 to play a major role as he always has done, whether in Campbell High, San Jose State or 49er uniform.

Juveniles Worry Cops with Wave Of Petty Crimes

A juvenile crime wave of considerable proportion which has swept Campbell during the last weeks has become a matter of grave concern to police and others interested in the local teenage problem, Sgt. John Morgan of the Campbell police reported this week.

The crimes which include car thefts, burglary, petty theft, malicious mischief and drunkeness have resulted so far in the arrest of 13 youths ranging from 11 to 17.

Sgt. Morgan also said that in most cases the juveniles apprehended were "repeaters" and that only two cases have been referred to the local Youth Guidance Committee, headed by Mrs. W. R. Morgan.. The others have been turned over to Juvenile Hall.

The four car thefts reported took place on the west side of town, on Christopher, Virginia, Budd and Milton avenues. Morgan said that the police prefer to call the thefts "joy riding" because the method of operation in each case was the same: the youths took the cars without permission (generally between 7 and 9:30 p.m.) and retuned them later within a few blocks of where they picked them up. Three boys have been arrested for the thefts.

Four arrests were made on charges of breaking windows in the S.P. commuter train which passes through town daily. The youths were apprehended by S. P. investigators in the act of throwing rocks at the trains.

Three juveniles were arrested for burglary and petty theft charged with breaking into three local stores including A & W Root Beer on Winchester Road and the Campbell-Cambrian Cyclery on N. Third St.

Three juveniles were also arrested for drunkeness during the height of the wave. Other reports of malicious mischief, attributed to juveniles have been filed with the police. Damage has been done at the West Valley Disposal Grounds on San Jose-Los Gatos Road in several instances.

Car-Bike Crash Hurts Youngster

Bobby Carney, eight-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carney of 365 N. Esther Ave., Campbell, was seriously injured on Tuesday afternoon at N. Central Ave. and Grant Ave. when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car driven by Henry E. Lampreda, 16, of 16399 Mozart Ave., Campbell.

The driver of the car was neither held nor cited, the police report.

Officer Carl Arnold who investigated the accident reported that the little boy was hurled about 30 feet in the air by the impact. The boy was reported to be in fair condition at the County Hospital, although badly bruised. No bones were apparently broken.

Officer Arnold reported that the boy was identified through a bicycle license registration at the Campbell police department. By this means the parents were able to be notified immediately and arrived on the scene before the ambulance had taken the boy to the hospital.

On City Council

'CM' Foes Gain Ally

Opponents to the highly controversial "Controlled Manufacturing" zoning ordinance gained an influential ally Monday night when Councilman Myron L. Fairchild indicated he would oppose the adoption of the ordinance.

Spontaneous applause from the partisan crowd at the public hearing on "CM" greeted the announcement by Councilman Fairchild, marking the first time since the "CM" battle started months ago that an utterance by any city official on the matter had been accorded anything but open hostility by opponents to "CM".

Closely Identified

Fairchild said he was not opposed to the restrictions included in the proposed ordinance, but felt that the entire matter was too closely identified with the industrial park area, where the landowners bitterly oppose it, for the City to act on it at his time. He added that when the controversy had abated, the matter could possibly be considered again.

Fairchild's statement highlighted the hearing, which was more or less a repeat of previous performances with John M. Burnett, San Jose attorney representing the embittered landowners, taking the lead in lashing out against the proposed ordinance.

After hearing the protests, a contingent of residents from Old Orchard Road who spoke in favor of it, the abbreviated Council (Councilmen Richard Morton and Charles Rose were absent) continued the public hearing until December 16.

This was the second time that the controversial zoning ordinance had been before the Council. After its original appearance the Council had sent it back to the Planning Commission for suggested changes. It was the revised job that was up for the hearing Monday. At the previous meeting Burnett had cited some of the major flaws in the original measure which the Council agreed needed correcting.

Three Major Differences

While working on the revisions, the City Planners met with

Council Continues Hearing Until Monday On Controversial 'CM' Zoning Issue

a committee of landowners in an attempt to work out the differences of opinion, but, as Planning Consultant Nestor Barrett pointed out in presenting the case of "CM" at the hearing, three major differences remained after the compromise meetings.

The three points he explained were: (1) "CM" calls for no outdoor storage (opponents want it); (2) "CM" calls for only masonry construction (opponents want other types, including metal); (3) Opponents object to name "Controlled." They would prefer "restricted" or "limited." Barrett also outlined the other changes from the original ordinance and explained that the majority of the changes were made at the request of the landowners group.

Burnett, in his defense of his clients views on the differences, claimed that the word "controlled" implied a "cop looking over one's shoulder"; that it was unfair to insist on masonry construction and that because of the large back yards required, it should be permissible to use them for outside storage.

Improvement

Burnett, however, did not limit himself to the three major points of differences in his hour-long blast before the City Council. He maintained that if "CM" was imposed on his clients' property, the cost of improvements would prevent the property owners from either selling or developing their properties.

He said that the people before agreeing to be annexed to Campbell had been promised that the area would be zoned light industrial (M-1-S) and "CM" was never mentioned, and he thought that keeping honor and faith was important for city officials.

He declared that should this ordinance be adopted, it would "mark the first time in history of this state that a law without public support has been jammed down the people's throats."

Burnett made a big thing out of the lack of public support for the ordinance.

Blasts "The Press"

Not only did the attorney chide the city officials for having "their minds made up" but he took The Campbell Press to task for its biased attitude on the issue.

He entered as evidence an editorial of The Campbell Press of May 23 when he claimed that "CM" was publicly explained for the first time. He added that despite the editorial pleas of The Press, no public support had been forthcoming, which indicated that the people did not want "CM" even if the Planners, City Council and newspaper did.

"You have a good newspaper in this town," Burnett grimly asked, "but with all due respect to the learned publisher of the paper, is he going to run the town?"

Burnett was followed by a number of his clients who touched on various phases to which they objected in their common enemy, "CM".

Others Speak

Among those voicing their distaste for the measure was Oleg Lubeckis, who also headed a list of 19 property owners who had presented a petition asking for M-1-S zoning for their area instead of the threat of "CM", claiming that cost of improvements would make it impossible to use their property. The petitioners also claimed that the City Council had violated their original promise that the area would be M-1-S.

Another speaking out against "CM" was R. L. Townsend, who told the Council that the cost of improvements had made him a bitter foe against "CM", though at first he favored many of the restrictions.

He also claimed that (1) "CM" would waste land and would not provide the needed tax revenue for the city because it virtually eliminated any sales tax income from the area; (2) 'CM" would turn industrialists into park caretakers; (3) that it would restrict resale and (4) that "CM" was not popular with any group. (If it was, wouldn't the local service clubs rally around and appear in its behalf, he wanted to know.)

Still Others

Others who spoke, several of them two or three times) against "CM" were: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark, Mark J. Thomas, H. F. C. Ludeman and Douglas Beatty, assistant manager of Western Gravel (a large property owner in the district) and president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Beatty Objects

Beatty objected to the one-acre minimum for industrial lots and cited land costs as his main reason. He said that with the improvements that would have to be made, land would come to a cost of $9,000 per acre, which would make it almost impossible to either sell or develop.

He felt that, if the six acres his company owns could be divided into smaller parcels, it would give them a chance to do something with the property. He also felt that the restrictions as to masonry construction worked a hardship on those who desired to put up small buildings.

Favor "CM"

Favoring "CM" at the hearing was a group of residents of Old Orchard Road. Phil Salituri, 633 Old Orchard Road, acted as the spokesman for them and told the Council that 40 residents of the area had signed a petition favoring the restrictive zoning. He explained that only Winchester Road and the railroad track separated this residential section from the industrial park. In the group present at the meeting also were Howard H. Keech, 561 Old Orchard Road; James E. Hartman, 694 Old Orchard Road and J. B. Nevin, 664 Old Orchard Road.

Another property owner favoring "CM" who spoke was Mrs. Walker Vaughn. She said she did not like industry there in the first place, but wanted to be sure it was nice. She also added that the cost of improvements was a bothersome one.

Opportunity to Answer

In suggesting the continuance of the hearing, Mayor John M. Chargin said he felt that a full Council was necessary to act on the matter. He felt that there should be an opportunity given for Council members favoring "CM" to reply to some of the charges that were leveled at them. He emphasized that the silence of the Council members at the hearing did not mean that they acquiesed to them.

Planners Give OK To Building Plans

Campbell Planners approved a commercial development, an apartment house and acted favorably on a zone change request in a routine meeting Tuesday in sharp contrast to previous meetings when "CM" zoning was the center of attention.

L. L. Hunker was given approval for a four-unit apartment on Dunster Drive in the Lawndale subdivision subject to his meeting with a number of conditions as was Lena Campisi for a commercial building 110-feet by 240-feet on the San Jose-Los Gatos Road just south of Hamilton Ave.

Phillip Sondeno application for change in zone from R-2-S to R-3-S on Sunberry Drive at Kamson Way was approved after Frank Perry, who resides at Hamilton and Milton adjacent to the lot was satisfied that any proposed building would not be objectionable to him.

Sondeno's application for approval of plans for a five-unit partment was withdrawn at his request and with changes will be submitted at a later date.

The Commission also noted and filed a letter from W. H. Wallace of Pioneer Ave., San Jose in which the writer informed the Planners that he would be willing to serve on a citizens committee for parks and recreation for the community. He reported that he had a background of parks and recreation experience gained in other communities.

Prince of Peace Lutheran Church

"Signs Upon The Earth will be the sermon topic for Pastor Welchert at the 10:30 worship service of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church Sunday, December 6. The sermon is based on the scripture text of Luke 21: 25-36 which is the gospel lesson for the second Sunday in the Advent season.

Advent is a period set aside in the church year for the special preparation for the coming of Christ, not only commemorating His birth at Christmas time but also looking toward His second coming.

Intermediate Luther League will meet Sunday evening in the Avery home at 7 p.m.

Meetings during the week include the Education committee at the Von Gortz home Monday, December 9; and ULC Women and Brotherhood joint meeting Thursday, December 12, in the Saratoga Foothill Club.

Wildcats Nip Buc Win Streak With 27-6 Turkey Day Win

Los Gatos powerful Wildcats rolled to a stunning 27-2 victory over the Campbell High Buccaneers in the Thanksgiving Day classic to finish their season in a tie for second place in SCVAL standings.

It was the fifteenth win for the Wildcats in the 24 year old rivalry and broke a five year Campbell win streak. It gave Los Gatos a 6-2-0 season record, the Cats' best year since 1951. The Bucs finished with a 2-6-0 record, placing fifth in the loop.

A crowd of approximately 5500 filled the stands and lined Helm Field to watch the Cats take their revenge for last year's 38-6 humbling at the hands of the Bucs.

Statistically the Bucs turned in a good offensive performance, gaining 284 yards to the Cats' 335, but most of the Campbell offense yardage came between the 30 yard lines.

Halfback Dave Smith and fullback Ken Buran rolled up a big part of the Bucs' grou[illegible] gains. Smith, showing g[illegible] power through the line, car[illegible] eight times for 53 yards and a 6.62 per carry average. Buran, the Buc workhorse all season, picked up 69 yards in 14 carries.

Seniors Dan Grannis, To[m] Farley and Jim Omura turned in fine defensive performances in the Campbell line but the Cats' bruising power wore down the Buc defenses after a close first half.

Campbell's only score came early in the first quarter when a high pass from center went over Los Gatos punter Paul Hundley in the end zone for a safety after the Bucs had fumbled deep in Wildcat territory.

Held scoreless until midway in the second period, the Wildcats finally exploded when halfback Mike Higgins went 38 yards off tackle to score and cap an 80 yard drive. Hundley's extra point made it 7-2.

Los Gatos scored again after forcing Campbell to punt to the Cat 38. On the first play, quarterback Jim Liggett rolled out and went 62 yards to a touchdown. Buc guard Roy Tannehill blocked Hundley's conversion attempt and the score remained 13-2 at halftime.

Higgins got his second touchdown on the second play of the second half. After Cat quarterback Hugh Campbell had lost nine yards when Grannis, Tannehill and Omura dumped him as he went back to pass, Los Gatos was left with its back to the wall and a second and 19 at the Cat three.

Campbell handed off to Higgins on a fake pass-draw play and the high stepping halfback scooted through the entire Buc squad, going 97 yards for a TD. The play was the longest gain from scrimmage of the SCVAL season. Hundley's PAT gave the Cats a 20-2 lead.

Late in the same quarter, the Bucs drove 48 yards to the Los Gatos 25, with Smith picking up 41 yards of the distance. But a fumble ended the threat as the Cats took over at that point.

The Cats capped their scoring late in the final period when Los Gatos end Matt Tielmans blocked Jim Cole's punt and halfback Jerry Peabody fell on the ball to give the Cats the ball at the Buc 13.

Fullback Dick von Alvensleben scored three plays later from one yard out and halfback Larry Rugani went around end for the PAT to make it 27-2.

Campbell Cagers Prep for Opener With Watsonville

Football took a back seat this week at Campbell High as Coach Bert Robinson's varsity basketball [illegible] opened practice fo[r] [illegible] league season opene[r] [illegible] Watsonville Saturday a[t] [illegible] at the Watsonvil[le] [illegible]

[illegible] faces a big buildin[g] [illegible] this season with only one re[turning] letterman among the 6[illegible] [illegible] who turned out for [illegible] drills this week.

[Al]though the Bucs rate low [illegible]-season predictions this year, Robinson is hopeful that his squad "may surprise a few teams before the season is over."

John Kriewall, 6' 3" starting forward from last year's squad is the only letterman back this year and only one other varsity veteran, Gary Richards, is returning. Richards, (6' 2") was with the varsity last year until he injured an ankle.

Four hoopsters up from the 1956 junior varsity squad, Ala[n] Burdick (6'1"), Ron Rumbaug[h] (6' 2"), John Byer (5' 11"), and Charley Harrison (6' 2"), will probably be carrying the load in early games, Robinson said.

Tom Conrardy (6' 4"), a newcomer to Campbell High this year, has also looked good in practice, Robinson added.

Several ballplayers up from last year's "B" and "C" squad will bear watching, he said, and may add depth to the squad.

The Bucs play their first home game against Live Oak High Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. at the Buccaneer Gym and then move to the James Lick Invitational tournament at Lick next Thursday Friday and Saturday.

Campbell opens SCVAL competition Friday, Jan. 10, at Camden High.

Citizens Group Chairman Blasts State College Athletic Policies

EDITOR'S NOTE: Because we feel that the current controversy over San Jose State's future and other state colleges is of interest to all of us who live in California, we have asked Emerson (Doc) Arends, owner of the Campbell Lumber Co., and former president of both San Jose State's student body and alumni association, to present the case of the Citizens Committee for a Progressive San Jose State College which he heads.

The Press agrees with Doc's viewpoint that "unrealistic restrictions imposed upon each state college has effectively curtailed the academic and athletic progress of our colleges." The Press thinks the time has come to take a new look at the situation.—G.V.

EMERSON (DOC) ARENDS
. . . Presents Case

By Emerson (Doc) Arends

Certain developments in the San Jose area during the past few weeks have focused state wide attention on the conduct of California's state colleges. Briefly, these developments are:

1. A Citizens Committee attack on the athletic program at San Jose State College.
2. A State Assembly Subcommittee hearing on accreditation of the Engineering Departments of several state colleges.

Basically, both of these seemingly unrelated problems stem from the same major hurdle confronting California's fine educational system. This hurrdle is the apparent inability or refusal of the State Board of Education to act for the betterment of the thirteen state colleges. Simply stated, the unrealistic restrictions imposed upon each state college by the Board has efectively curtailed the academic and athletic progress of our colleges.

San Jose State College faces this problem today. We must look forward to the day when all the state colleges face this same situation. The fate of the others will depend upon the results of the present controversy.

Growth Breath-Taking

The growth of the state colleges during the past fifteen years has been breath taking, certainly far out of proportion to all previous predictions. In fact, this growth in itself is the cause of our existing dilemma. The State Board of Education appears to be like an overbearing mother; she appears to be unwilling to accept the fact that her baby has grown up. The Board does not appear equipped to handle this new responsibiliy. It apparently does not recognize that this once infant system is now the largest single system of higher education in the country; that it is now ready for independence.

The State Board does not recognize that Humboldt State College with an enrollment of a little more than 1000 and located in a primarily lumbering community, must be operated differently than San Francisco or Los Angeles State College which have enrollments approaching 10,000 and are located in the largest cities on the west coast. The answer to this dilemma is very simple.

Faculty Council

The Faculty Council of San Jose State College stated it very clearly when they said in a statement on Friday, November 15: "In our opinion the present controversy over inter-collegiate athletics illustrates but a facet of the over-all limitations upon the college's present ability to meet the problems it faces, many of them locally unique. The state college system, including institutions of tremendously varying conditions, is administered in many exacting particulars by the State Department of Education in Sacramento, whose first responsibility is the primary and secondary public schools, a tremendous burden in itself. The need is for greater autonomy for the state colleges as a group and for the individual colleges as well."

Assembly Bill

A bill introduced last January by Assemblyman Bruce Allen would set up a State College Board which would be similar to the University of California Board of Regents. This is progress. However, the California State Assembly failed to act favorably on this bill. The bill will be again introduced in this year's legislative session. Its successive passage will assure the continued growth of California's state colloge system in all fields. The progress of these fine colleges depends upon it.

Ex-Buc Grid Star Wins Tackle Spot On All-Coast Team

Dick Gleed, a former Campbell High star tackle who has probably won more athletic honors than any other Buc gridder of recent years was honored again this week when he won a spot on the United Press Little All-Coast football team.

Gleed, now in his second year at Chico State College, was named as one of the tackles on the mythical squad's first team.

The 6' 3", 215 lb. lineman played with the High Buccaneers under Coach Muir in the 1950, '51 and '52 seasons. As a senior in 1952, he was a member of the "Cinderella team" that won the SCVAL championship for Campbell.

In that year, Gleed was named to the SCVAL All-League team, and also won a berth on the All-North Coast squad. He was named on the 20-30 Club's All-County team and tied for Outstanding Plays in the area with Lou Valli, Stanford fullback this year.

At Campbell, Gleed was also a league champion wrestler. After two years with the Army in Germany, Gleed entered Chico State last year and is now a junior.

Buc Matmen Open Training

Coach Rod McDermott's Buccaneer wrestling team moved into an up-tempo practice schedule this week in preparation for their opening SCVAL match against Camden here Tuesday at [illegible]:30.

McDermott's squad will get the acid test when they face Camden after only five days of practice. Camden finished fourth in the league last year and has nearly all the 1956 squad returning.

Sixty prospective grapplers including eight returning lettermen have turned out for early practice sessions and McDermott expects several more prospects from the Campbell football squads.

The Bucs will be strengthened in the 138 lb. class by the return of defending champion Fred Stropa. Stropa won his second straight conference championship last year and placed third in Northern California high school championship matches.

Harry Tomisako, who finished second in the conference and second in the championship matches in the 120 lb. division last season, will be back this year stepping up to the 127 lb. class.

Taking Tomisako's place in the 120 lb. class this year will be Dave Nevis, who was second in the conference in the 112 lb. division last season.

In the 145 lb. weight, the Bucs should be very strong this year with two returning lettermen, Bob Ochoa and Jim Omura. Ochoa was fourth in the league at that weight last year while Omura was third in the conference at the 133 lb. weight.

Another letterman, Nozomu Iwasaki, who showed well last year in the 127 lb. class, is also back this year.

McDermott will get a look at his newcomers in action tomorrow when the team travels to the SCVAL novice tournament at Sunnyvale. The matches are only open to novices who have no previous varsity competition experience.

Novices from six teams will be competing in the matches which open at 1 p.m. at the Sunnyvale gym. Teams represented will include Sunnyvale, Fremont, Camden, Los Gatos and Los Altos.

Bucs Letter in Fall Sports

Sixty-one Campbell High athletes will be receiving letter awards for fall sports at the awards banquet next week.

Awards for varsity football will go to 24 gridders while 23 "B" footballers will receive letters. Seven cagers from the "C" basketball squad and seven from the "D" hoop team will also receive awards.

Lettering for the second year for varsity football are Dave Smith, Tom Farley, Dave Alvarez, Ken Buran and Verne Walton.

Second year lettermen in "B" football are Dan Schwartz, Benny Lujan, Ron Wilson, Marc Bahl and Harry Tomisako.

This year's "B" squad chalked up the best season record in Campbell High history, winning seven and losing two to finish in third place in the SCVAL.

Four members of the league champion "D" basketball team receiving second year awards are Don Suhama, Chester Itow, Gary Kanemoto, and Al Sequira. Receiving their first year "block" letters are Ronnie Speno, Harvey Kanemoto and Bob Short.

Suhama was the league's sixth highest scorer with 68 points and a 6.2 per game average for the season as the "D" squad rolled up a won-10, lost-1 record.

Lettering for the "C" basketball team were Dick Mayeda, Kent Winters, Bill Vega, Dave Moncrief, Jim Sweeney, Mike Uyemura and Ben Uyemura.

Mayeda became the league's leading scorer as he scored 151 points for a 15.1 per game average to lead the Cs to an 8-3 season record and third place in the SCVAL. Winters was seventh highest scorer in the league, tanking 100 points for a 9.1 per game average.

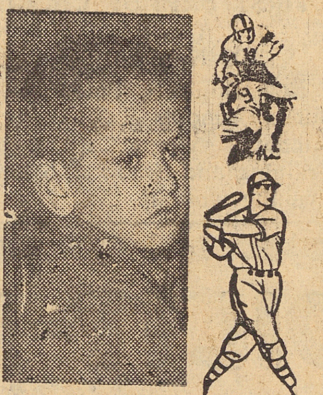
LOW DOWN ON SPORTS



By Marvin Moore

San Jose State Wins

The San Jose Spartans were deep in Hawaii territory three times in that first half but couldn't connect for touchdowns. They came back in the third quarter to intercept a pass on their own 45 and went on to score. They took over a punt on Hawaii 45 late in the fourth quarter and sailed on for their second T.D. The final score 12-0.

It was San Jose game all the way through even though they played in showers and heavy wind.

Notre Dame Whips U.S.C.

Notre Dame ran up its highest score in more than two seasons to take U.S.C 40-12. It was their sixth win of this season and by far their easiest. Pat Doyle, Irish halfback, returned a kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown. Doyle, a sophomore, had only played in one other game this seasn.

The statistics showed 23 first downs to UCS 11 and total yardage 412 to UCS's 186.

Navy Shuts Out Army

Navy's halfback, Ned Oldham, with spectacular runs of seven and 44 yards—made both touchdowns to take the Army 14-0.

This victory puts Navy in the Cotton Bowl on New Years Day against Rice.

Bowl Games

The Bowl Games are all decided now with Oklahoma-Duke at the Orange Bowl; Mississippi-Texas at the Sugar Bowl; Texas A & M-Tennessee at the Gator Bowl and of course our own Oregon vs. Ohio State at the Rose Bowl.

49'ers Crush Giants

The San Francisco 49'ers playing, I think, their best game this season came through to crush the Giants 27-17.

They recovered six fumbles and with Tittle's passing and alert defensive play they have kept their Western title hopes alive by staying just one game behind the Baltimore Colts.

They meet the Colts this coming Sunday, December 8 at Kezar Stadium. This will be an all out game and a special day for Campbell fans as it will be Billy Wilson Day, honoring our local player who has really had a good season.

Basket Ball

Well it's just about time for the Basketball to start and though it's just a little early to stick my neck out I think USF looks pretty good. The Dons still have four first stringers who helped get them to the N.C.A.A. tournament last season.

San Jose State squad only lost one regular and have two promising transfers coming up.

St. Marys Gaels lost their top man, Johnson, but have several first stringers returning and will give State a good battle for second place.

Santa Clara Broncos have practically a new team, but I think very promising and know they are always to be watched.

U.C.L.A. and Washington look good in the P.C.C.

Buc Bees Edge Camden Finish Third in Loop

Ron Wilson's end sweep for the point after touchdown gave the Campbell High Buc Bees a slim 7-6 victory over Camden High last week in the first intra-district football clash between the two schools.

Wilson's conversion put the Bees ahead after quarterback Benny Lujan had scored Campbell's only touchdown in the second quarter to tie the score at 6-6.

The win gave Campbell a 7-2-0 season record and left Camden with a 4-4-1 mark. The game, previously cancelled by an outbreak of flu, did not count in league standings. Campbell had already clinched third place in the league while Camden finished fifth.

Although the Cougars outgained the Bees, 212 yards to 99, in total offense, some fine clutch play by the Bee line and several damaging penalties stopped Cougar drives later in the game.

Camden scored first after taking the opening kickoff and driving 57 yards in 12 plays. With jarring fullback Fred McCune crunching through the Bee line for 25 yards of the drive, the Cougars moved to the Bee 12.

Quarterback Dan Clark scored from the 12 on a rollout around right end to give the Cougars a 6-0 lead. But Clark's rollout around end on the PAT attempt was short and the one-point deficit proved costly for the Cougars.

The Bees got a break early in the second quarter when end Harry Tomisako blocked Dave Hill's punt deep in Camden territory and the Bees took over at the Cougar 10. But Wilson fumbled at the one yard line on the next play and Camden recovered to end the threat.

The Bees started their scoring drive seconds later when Wilson took a Hill punt at the 50 yard line. Lujan's pass to Tomisako took the ball to the Camden 36. Lujan and Wilson picked up another first down at the 20 and right half Marc Bahl drove eight yards behind Greg Yamamoto's block to the 12.

Lujan's pass to Bob Straight went incomplete in the end zone on the next play but an interference penalty against Camden put the ball on the one. Lujan sneaked over on the next play and Wilson added the conversion to make it 7-6.

Camden threatened again early in the third quarter when they drove to the Campbell seven with McCune spearheading the drive. But Bee tackle Tom Lejan's recovery of Clark's fumble at that point stopped the threat.

The Cougars drove to the Bee four early in the fourth quarter but a holding penalty moved them back to the 19 and the drive fizzled.

With only one minute to play in the game, Camden again moved deep into Campbell territory, picking up a first down at the Bee 23. But, led by center Danny Schwartz, the Bee line held and after three incomplete passes by Clark, Campbell took over as the gun sounded.

Goodwill Needs Usable Materials

David D. Blair, executive director of Goodwill Industries, reports that more materials are needed to maintain a training and rehabilitation program for handicapped persons.

Clothing, shoes, furniture, appliances and other housewares provide the vocational training and rehabilitation opportunities needed by deserving handicapped persons.

Especially needed at the present time is repairable furniture, including living room, dining room, and bedroom sets, occasional chairs and tables, and kitchen tables and chairs.

For pickup of usable materials, donors are asked to call CY 5-3815.

Buc '30' Cagers Open Prep Drills

Coach Hal Raley's Campbell High "Thirties" basketball squad opened practice Tuesday for their season opener Saturday with some 40 prospects turning out for early sessions.

Raley hopes to have four returning veterans from last season's squad out for practice along with several players off hte 1956 "C" team by the end of the week. He said that judging by early showings the Thirties should have a "winning team" this season.

The squad opens its season with a non-league game Saturday night at 7:15 at Watsonville High.

Raley said he was also counting on some ballplayers up from last year's championship Campbell Elementary School squad but could not name a starting squad for the opener.

THE AIRPLANE CLUB—
by Bruce Patton

If you should hear the scream of a model airplane engine and see a plane darting around the field on Monday, Wednesday, or Friday, or see a glider of any size drift over your house, look to the Campbell Airplane Club.

In the Club many boys, experienced or not at building airplanes, can learn how to build, fly, and rebuild planes. Under the direction of Mr. Mette who has had experience at building models, the boys learn many tricks of the hobby.

The club has two "class planes." Everyone in the club can fly them, and another is being built. The boys have to pay twenty-five cents at the beginning of the semester to fly.

The pupils can bring in their own planes and fly them.

Most of the boys are inexperienced at building gliders. At the start of the year each boy must biuld a thermic 20, a solid balsa wood glider.

During the semester a contest is held for the glider that stays in the air the longest. This year Tito Dal Porto won a trophy with a top time of 42 seconds.

There are 24 members in the club which meets from 11:10 to 11:50 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

MR. JOLIMAY'S WOODSHOP—
by Pam Barnett

One of the activities at Campbell Grammer is Girls Woodshop. Each of the activities meet three times a week. The activities run for a semester.

Each of the girls choose a project which she would like to make. Then Mr. Jolimay, the instructor, demonstrates the proper use of hand and machine tools. In the woodshop the girls learn for future reference, many practical things, like how to put an electrical cord in a lamp. Safety is stressed very strongly.

For a project, workshop students can choose almost anything from water skis to a gouge project.

Taking part in this activity are Jeralee Drew, Kris Cameron, Sheila Rogers, Gail Perry, JoAnn Canepa, Linda Ledesma, Judy Geringer, Jeanne Gault, Pam Barnett, Geraldine Francisco, Sharon Janes, Sharon Jackson, Jean Sisco, and Diane Chernoff.

SOCIAL DANCING—
By Susan Kenney

Social dancing is another of the many activities provided for students of the Campbell Grammar School. There are classes for both the 7th and 8th grades. The 8th grade class, consisting of forty couples, is divided into two sections, one instructed by Mrs. Aguilar. Classes are held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for about forty-five minutes. Students learn the basic steps to the Fox Trot, Waltz, Tango, Rumba, Samba, Cha Cha and Swing, with several variations of each.

Towards the end of the year, members of the second semester group may put on a demonstration for the assembly.

GIRLS' INTERMURAL
by Barbara Hollis, Judy Lew

The P.E. instructors have set up at Campbell noon-hour sports games. On Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday the girls from each homeroom compete against another home room until every team has played all the others. The type of game played depends on the season. The seventh grade girls started out with volley ball and the eighth grade with basketball.

The eighth grade champions for this particular sport are Mr. Farley's Room 18. Linda Paulsen, the captain, when asked how she felt about winning said, "Speaking for my team and myself, we're very happy and proud that we won and we owe it all to good teamwork and good participation."

The seventh grade champions were Mr. Woodfint's girls from Room A. When their captain, Paula Maciel, was asked the same question she replied, "Our room didn't expect to win because we were so short." Congraulations to these two top teams!

Our second sport, basketball for the 7th and volley ball for the 8th, is being conducted a little differently. This time we will have two rounds. The winners of the first will play the winners of the second. This final game decides who the champions will be. The 7th grade has not quite finished the first round, but the 8th grade has. Room J has the top score. Their captain is Jeanne Duncan.

Coed volleyball, sacket, soft ball, and deck tennis will be included in the intermural sports.

Miss Golot, the head P.E. teacher, for the girls, has done a wonderful job, as she always does, organizing the games and keeping a chart to show who is in the lead. Barbara Hollis and Judy Lew get the girls started in their correct games each day. The scoring, which decides the wiinners is as follows:

Win—10
Lose— 6

This applies to both volleyball and basketball.

DRAMATICS—
by Mickey Smith

In Miss Mackey's Dramatic Club two plays are being rehearsed. One is "Beanie's Private Eye".

It was presented for the eighth grade Wednesday, the 27th of November. The seventh grade will see it the 13th of December.

The cast for "Beanie's Private Eye" includes:

Beany' played by Keith Ladine; Hacky by David Aguilar; Mrs. Reynolds by Sally Lavette; Stephanie by Lynda Rouse; Mr. Bolton by Bruce Coutellier; policeman by John Hauswirth; Daisy by Becky Putnam; Mr. Reynolds by Stephen Mannah; Digby by Pinky McGregor; and Mrs. Warren by Shelly Hancock.

The second play is the Christmas Play" which will be presented for the December PTA meeting. The "Christmas Play" is about an oil town in Texas. The town lost its Christmas spirit. The play is centered around an orphanage.

—o—

YEARBOOK—
by Carol Cooke

The initial planning on the yearbook are Pinky MacGregor, and work has begun on the scale layout, reports the Yearbook Committee.

New titles and sections have been added this year with the popular snapshot contest features being repeated. The committee wants everyone to enter the photo contest. Information regarding the contest is on posters around the school.

Those hard at work on the yearbook are Pinky MasGregor, Sue Goldner, and Judy Lew.

Members of the Fine Arts Club are helping with cut work. Paste-up Committee members include Adda Quinn, Judy Cockran and Randy La Morte.

—o—

AUDIO-VISUAL—

Another interesting activity the students at Campbell Grammar have an opportunity of selecting is the Audio-Visual program, under the direction of Mr. Bosworth. The students learn to operate film strip projectors, phonographs, motion picture projectors, and microphones. After the students learn how to operate this equipment properly, they become very helpful to the teachers, operate whatever equipment is necessary for assemblies, and gladly offer their services in the evening for PTA meetings when asked to do so. The students enjoy their work and do a fine job for the entire school.

Racoon Has Own Christmas Tree

WHO WOULDN'T GRIN? Jasper, a celebrated racoon who lives at a fishing camp along the Trans-Continental line of the Canadian National Railways in Northern Ontario, has his own Christmas tree this year and he likes it. What racoon wouldn't grin when he finds that guide Jack Wilkinson has decorated the tree with all the routine trinkets plus a liberal amount of bacon rind of which racoons are especially fond. Jasper is the racoon who made headlines a couple of years ago when he failed to win a race crossing the tracks at Government Park, Ont. as the "Super-Continental" came along. The train clipped his tail off and tossed him into a snow drift. He has fully recovered as this picture shows. FNS

EDITORIAL

What Do YOU Think of the Idea?

A number of local residents have indicated that they favor the development of the abandoned gravel pit at the edge of the town into a recreational area.

The suggestion was made in The Press some weeks ago that if this man-made waste-land, idle for 25 years, could be obtained by the City of Campbell, it might possibly be converted into a park area in which there would be recreational facilities for every age group in our community.

The Press believes that if such an area could be made into a recreational area, it would give Campbell residents an opportunity to "point with pride" to an outstanding civic project.

We feel that every city should have some sort of a "show-off" spot in which the people can all feel that they have a part and proudly boast of same to visitors.

Community pride is a somewhat intangible factor that is highly important in the overall picture of a town. But to develop community pride there must be something tangible that residents can use as a rallying ground.

We think a recreational park area such as is envisioned for that old gravel pit would provide the tangible factor needed for the City of Campbell.

We have no idea what the cost would be of transforming that gravel pit into a useable park area.

Until we find out if the land can be available and what acreage there is involved, it would be useless to attempt to outline a plan for development.

It takes imagination and vision to visualize those man-made ravines transformed into a park and there will be some who will refuse to give their imaginations a chance.

We hope that the owners of the property, the Pacific Cement and Aggregates, will see the advantages of allowing the land to be transferred to city ownership. We hope that the City Council members who are interested in the development of the area press the company to give an answer as to whether it is possible to put it under city control.

But until a definite answer is forthcoming from the owners, all of us are more or less groping in the dark.

We sincerely hope that local residents who favor such a project would make their opinions known either to the City Council or to The Press.

Let's Make It a Bright Christmas

Seven merchants in the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester Road and Latimer and The Campbell Press have cooperated this year to offer trophies for the best decorated outdoor Christmas tree and for the best yard decoration.

The Press is happy to cooperate with the merchants in the Campbell Shopping Center because we hope that offering prizes will stimulate interest in making our community much more attractive during the Yule season.

It is not intention of the sponsors that the residents turn this competition into an expensive undertaking.

Rather, as Judge John D. Blaine, who will act as one of the judges, puts it: "It isn't how much money they spend on their displays that is important, but rather the originality and ingenuity with which they use their decoration."

The Press and its fellow sponsors, Campbell Drugs, Lee Bros., Sunshine Card and Toy, Laurel Variety, Irish Washerwoman Laundromat, C&H Cleaners and Nielsen's Jewelers, hope that local residents will show an interest in lighting up for Christmas and make an effort to make their community more attractive. An entry blank is published in this issue for your convenience.

We grant you that decorated yards and trees are not the most important phase of Christmas time. We know it is not necessary to carry the Christmas spirit on one's sleeve, so to speak.

We agree that there is a great deal of commercialism tied up with the Christmas season. We deplore the fact that the meaning of Christmas is often overlooked and Santa is often given a more prominent position than he is entitled to.

Yet we feel that the season as a whole should be a joyous one, a bright and memorable one.

We believe that decorated yards will add to making the Christmas season even more joyous and more bright.

We sincerely hope that you will agree and take part in making Campbell brighter for Christmas, 1957.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

On Thanksgiving Day afternoon a friend took me for a ride to the top of Mt. Umunum, the large mountain a little east of south of Campbell.

Over the years I had tried to find the peak of Umunum several times by combination of county road and private road. But I had never been sure which peak was it. Several peaks looked much alike, and all were covered with thick and difficult brush.

Now the military service has a radar station atop Umunum, and it is only a question of finding the government road through the federal reservation. And it really is a question. Directions you get are apt to be misleading.

We were mislead twice. At last we got it straight, but even so the road was rather disconcerting.

We took the regular Guadalupe valley road to its extreme south end and then continued on through large estates fenced off but yet with county road through them. Each boundary had its "cattle gate". This device is an opening that admits cars but discourages cattle with a wide metallic strip hoofed creatures don't like to step on.

The estates seem to be used chiefly for grazing, though we saw no cattle. Perhaps the grazing begins when the winter grass starts. Now the land is scattered brush and small trees, with dry grass between. We saw no houses. Signs said, "No Hunting".

Eventually we came to a branch and guessed that the right was to the right. Soon this became paved government road with a yellow center line. Hence we were convinced that to the right was indeed right.

While my friend was driving —my license expired 13 years ago!--my thought went back over the years to when I first saw Guadalupe valley. It then contained the famed Guadalupe Quicksilver Mines. These were still in operation.

One Sunday in 1891, when I was 17, a friend and I rode our bikes up there, and I had on a brand new suit of Sunday clothes. We boys had a scientific interest in how the quicksilver was extracted. In our scientific zeal we forgot all about mere clothes. Edison would have done the same. And he would have experimented, even as we did.

We discovered that the ore was roasted and that the quicksilver went off with the smoke and soot in the form of steam. Then it was condensed in long flumes that ran up a hill. We discovered further that if we crawled up the old flumes we could find a little overlooked quicksilver in small cracks.

We had no bottles, but in a junk heap found some. The situation for our study of science was now complete. We climbed up and down the sooty flumes for hours, as excited as was Edison when he went without food and sleep.

I arrived home with ruined Sunday clothes but with enough quicksilver for experimental purpose for many years. On seeing my ruined Sunday clothes my parents doubted my sanity.

But parents didn't understand a boy of 17 then and don't yet.

My over the years reflections were interrupted by our arrival at a small federal office. A handsome young officer emerged, smiled, and said, "Sorry, but no farther."

He replied to our many questions so far as he was able and it was allowable. The buildings in plain sight he said could, if necessary, house 200. For Thanksgiving dinner that day had been roasted 18 turkeys for only 35 people, or a little more than half a turkey each.

The 35 had gone back and back, but the turkeys outlasted them. The 35 had quit so they might live to eat another day.

The officers showed us a small space for turning around, with a straight wall behind and a sraight drop in front. He watched with interest. As we said goodby he commented that my driver was the first woman he had seen turn around there wihout looking scared.

But he hadn't seen my face. I was scared!

On our slow winding glide down hill we had leisure to enjoy the fall colors, and especially the ancient sycamores, perhaps centuries old. They are now at their best, brilliant and gorgeous. And probably nowhere else are they so available to Campbell as in Guadalupe valley.

Here they grow mostly along the bed of the creek. Some of them have been immortalized by our Campbell artist, celebrated Frank H. Cutting - or as he sometimes high-flownedly calls himself, F. Harvey Cutting. But he is very good. No wonder his art has somewhat gone to his head!

The round trip from Campbell to top of Umunum is about 35 miles. It is a comfortable out of the way jaunt for a nice afternoon. With visibility good the view should be superb, much better than from Mt. Hamilton, which is too far away.

with

George Vierhus

We know that this "do-it-yourself" phase has become a very popular part of everyday living Don Witzel, of the Campbell Lumber, for example, says that the lumber company is crowded every Saturday morning by weekend carpenters.

But just recently we heard of a "do-it-yourself" feat that was comparable to the best of Dragnet's Sgt. Friday.

We have now tabbed Mrs. Connie Russo, well known local real estate agent, "Private Eye" because of her successful "do-it-yourself" exploit into police work recently when her car was stolen.

We long knew that Connie and her husband, Joe, a local contractor and a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, make-up a smooth-working business team but we didn't know that detective work was included as part of their over-all program.

We will keep it in mind, however, should our own car be stolen.

—o—

"Private Eye" Russo dutifully reported to the sheriff's office that her car had been stolen and then asked if it would be o.k. to help the sheriff's office look for it.

She then took her son's car and started out, with no definite objective in mind but to comb the streets of Los Gatos and environs.

Her search was rewarded a short time later when she discovered her station wagon parked under a tree somewhat off the beaten path.

Whoever had taken the vehicle had taken off but no damage had been done to the car.

If Mrs. Russo's second report that night to the sheriff's office on her car had a self-satisfied ring to it, she was entitled to it.

Apparently now that Sputnik I is waning or has waned or semthing, we will soon have a complete report couched in technical scientific language just what it means to the peoples of the world.

For sure we don't know.

We feel, however, that these science-fiction writers who have for years written stories about space-ships and stuff like that may have to delve into their imaginations a little deeper now that Sputnik has become such a routine conversational piece.

But scientists don't need to worry too much about whether or not the average American will take in stride this new step into space.

The traditional American sense of humor will stand in good stead.

We noted while attending the Rams-49'ers football game in the L. A. Coliseum that the oversized crowd of some 102,000 got more kick out of a balloon that was launched into the air labeled "Pupnik" than they did from any other half-time activity.

The balloon was sent into the air by one of the 102,000 and was not a scheduled event. Attached to the big balloon was another one shaped as a dog.

The chuckles of the huge crowd were magnified into quite a fair-sized roar as the throng craned their collective necks upward to watch the balloons.

We think it is safe to assume that the humor of the average guy may to some degree offset the dire forebodings of those who feel that the enemy is ready to pounce out of space.

—o—

Mrs. Andrew Lassen, chairman of the Christmas Seal sale campaign in the Campbell area for the last seven years, was more than a little upset last Friday when she discovered that six of the 10 envelopes she had placed in the post office, each containing 50 seals, were gone but that there was only 16 cents in the container. Donations for each envelope are 50 cents which meant that there should have been three bucks instead of 16 cents.

We agree with Mrs. Lassen that it was a pretty low trick to short-change such a worthwhile project as the TB Christmas seals which help a great deal in fighting the dread tuberculosis.

Yet there is no accounting for the pettiness of some people, even at Christmas time.

—o—

Our "crusade" to obtain the abandoned gravel pit at the edge of town for a recreational area has not as yet set the world, or even Campbell, afire.

At the same time we feel encouraged by some of the comments we have received and the indirect support for the project we hear is materializing.

We realize that there is a long way to go before we have anything that we can get our teeth into. That is why it is important to learn how the people will feel about the undertaking, if and when it materializes.

—o—

For those who have tuned in late, we are referring to the man-made waste-land at the southern city limits which we envision can be converted into a recreational area for the community.

Now it is nothing but a gleam in the eye and a big hole-in-the-ground, no different than it was some 25 years ago when the last gravel was dug out of it. We think that with judicious moving of the dirt terracing and landscaping the area can be utilized as a park site for the people of the community.

Naturally it is an ambitious undertaking. But it all does not have to be done at once. We think that should the residents of the community latch onto the idea a surprising amount of the work of development can be taken care of, without pain or strain.

For example, Mrs. Hazel Atkinson, 590 Apricot Way, in calling in a classified ad offering holly berries for sale, mentioned that she was anxious to see the park developed. She had many shrubs she would like to donate toward landscaping the site.

We value these comments and suggestions from the "grass roots" of the town, for we feel very strongly that unless the people indicate that they feel that such a development would be worth while, we all are sorta feeling our way in the dark and we need a light.

Brother, you gotta match?

LAW IN ACTION

CONSPIRATORS

When we think of conspirators we call up a picture of evil-faced, bearded men around a candlelit table, plotting the conquest of the world. But for the law there are other kinds of conspirators and conspiracy.

Early in the fourteenth century, English courts used a writ of conspiracy to decide whether the accused had maliciously agreed with another falsely to indict a third party for a felony.

In later common law courts "conspiracy" meant two or more persons combining for some unlawful purpose, or for a lawful purpose by unlawful means.

In California today a person cannot be accused of just "conspiracy." He must be accused of conspiracy to do one of the offenses set out in the statutes. There are no common law crimes in California; they must all be a plot, for example, to commit any crime—robbery, falsely to have another accused of any crime, criminally to cheat and defraud anyone, etc.

All conspirators must mean to commit the act, and know that it is unlawful when they hatch their plot.

At common law conspiracy was complete when the plotters reached their agreement, but in California conspiracy needs an overt act because you must show that the unlawful plan has gone beyond mere idle talk. But the plot need not go very far into action before it becomes a crime. It could be merely observing the movements of a prospective victim of a planned kidnaping, for example.

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Representative Charles S. Gubser

Sputniks I and II have ceased their "beep beep" but Science will never never know whether their silence is due to loss of battery power or if they have been drowned out by the roar of politicians from Washington, D.C. It seems to me that too much emphasis is being placed on an effort to blame the present administration and not enough on keeping ahead of the Russians. Here are some pertinent facts and questions.

At the close of World War II American forces captured Peenemunde, the center of German rocket and missile research. Later, a political decision caused us to withdraw and allow the Russians to move the rocket factories and scientists to Russia . . . . Was this a decision of the Eisenhower Administration?

It has been pretty well established that a security leak by the traitors Rosenberg and Fuchs gave the Russians valuable information. Can this leak which occurred five years before Eisenhower took office be blamed on the President?

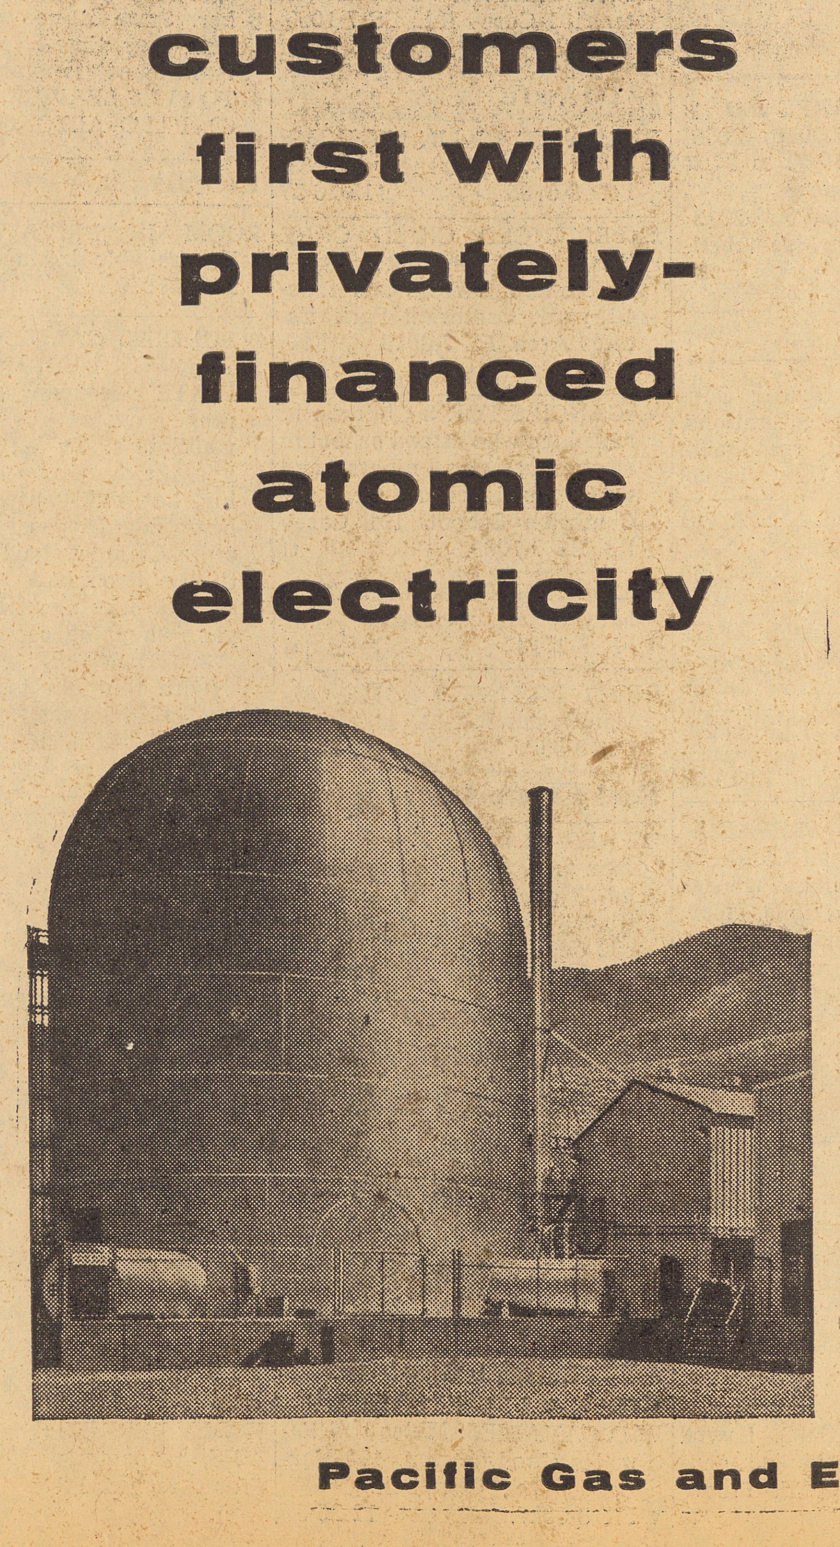
In 1948, Stuart Symington, then in charge of the missile program as Secretary of the Air Force, acknowledged that the Russians could have a ballistic missile by 1952. The Secretary (now an U.S. Senator) said that the program was well under way and "on schedule". What happened to this program and was it Eisenhower's?

Dr. Wernher Von Braun, the German expert now in charge of our Army's missile program, was recently asked this question: "How do you account for the USSR's apparent ability to outstrip the U.S. in reaching into space?" His answer: "The main reason is that the U.S. had no ballistic missile program worth mentioning between 1945 and 1951 . . . Thus, our present dilemma is not due to the fact that we are not working hard enough now, but that we did not work hard enough during the first six to ten years after the war." . . . Was Ensenhower in office from 1945 to 1951?

In Fiscal year 1951 we appropriated only 21 million dollars for missile research while suppoing peanuts to the tune of 14½ million. In 1958 we will spend 2 billion 872 million. Was the 1951 budget proposed by Eisenhower?

Nuclear power now helps serve Northern California

P. G. and E. customers first with privately-financed atomic electricity



CUSTOMERS OF P. G. AND E. are the world's first users of atomic electricity produced commercially in a privately-financed plant—the new Vallecitos Atomic Power Plant near Pleasanton.

This history-making achievement in the peaceful use of atomic energy is a joint developmental project of the General Electric Company and P. G. and E. The plant's output of A-electricity flows into P. G. and E.'s transmission network which serves Northern and Central California. It is helping to light your home and run your appliances right now.

Atomic electricity no different

A-electricity is just the same as other electricity. The only difference is that nuclear fuel is used instead of the usual fossil fuels (oil, gas and coal) to make the steam which turns the generators.

A-electricity now costs more in the United States than power made in conventional plants. It will not become a basic power supply here until it costs no more than electricity made with fossil fuels or falling water.

The future of commercial nuclear power

G-E and P. G. and E. joined forces at Vallecitos to gain experience and know-how from building an atomic plant and operating it for everyday commercial service. The lessons being learned and the experiments being conducted at Vallecitos are hastening the day when A-plants will become economical. We will be ready with low-cost A-electricity long before the inevitable depletion of the fossil fuel supply.

Thus, P. G. and E. customers may continue to be assured of power ahead of their needs as well as the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

Young Couple Make Their Home in Denver After Los Gatos Ceremony

Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and stock, Darlene Joyce Albright and Gordon Ted Estes repeated vows that united them in marriage on November 2. The Rev. Blaine Bishop performed the midafternoon ceremony at the Calvary Baptist Church of Los Gatos.

The young couple are now making their home in Denver, Colorado.

Campbell insurance man M. C. and Mrs. Melby are parents of the bride who attended Campbell High School where she was a member of the California Scholarship Federation and student affairs commissioner. She also attended Camden High where she was first vice-president of the student body and active in girls sports.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Estes of Lakewood, California. He is a graduate of Lakewood High and was recently discharged from the U.S. Navy Squadron V-A 156, Moffett Field. He is now employed by the I.P.X. Trucking Company of Denver, Colorado.

For her wedding, Darlene selected a bouffant gown of eggshell brocaded taffeta and lace styled with sweetheart neckline and tiny cap sleeves. A crown of seed pearls held her elbow-length veil. A strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and elbow-length brocade lace mitts completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of pink antheriums, orchids and stephonotis especially flown here from Hawaii by Mrs. Robert Ecklund, when given in marriage by her father. →

Maid of honor and only attendant of the bride was Nancy Curreton who wore a full-skirted gown of pink taffeta and matching pink crown. She carried a muff of pink and white carnations.

Rudy Diaz of Miami, Florida, performed the duties of best man and Ronnie Willett and David Sims served as ushers.

Vocal numbers were "O Promise Me", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Mrs. Melby, mother of the bride, wore a dress of blue lace over satin with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Estes were unable to attend their son's wedding and were represented by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Willett, close friends of the groom.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds received 150 friends at a rception at Chateau Boussey. Their four-tiered wedding cake was decorated in pink and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

All flowers for the wedding and reception were flown in from Hawaii and arranged by Mrs. Robert Ecklund who also supervised cutting of the cake. Champagne was served by David Kramakele and wedding pictures were made by Richard Carotta of Campbell, close friend of the bride.

Before the young couple left on their honeymoon trip through Nevada, Utah and Colorado, the new Mrs. Estes donned a gray cashmere suit with matching accessories and pinned on an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Louis Erlicher of Gaastra, Michigan, and Mrs. James N. Holdener of Morton Grove, Illinois, aunts of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith of San Bruno, Mr. and Mrs. John Marzzello and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Anderson of San Mateo; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph St. Jacques and Mr. and Mrs. Al Boisjelle of Sunnyvale, Miss Linda Sidwell of San Mateo and many from Los Gatos and San Jose.

NEWLYWED MR. AND MRS. GORDON ESTES ... Shown immediately after their November 2 wedding in Los Gatos are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Estes, who are now residing in Denver, Colorado. The bride was formerly Darlene Albright.

Teenagers - Adults Discuss Problems

Approximately 65 teen-agers and their parents gathered at the Congregational Church Sunday evening, November 24, for a potluck dinner and discussion of mutual problems

Topic for the evening was "These Parents of Ours". Mrs. Kay Taylor, supervised the program which included skits in which parents took the part of teen-agers and teen-agers played the role of their parents to help solve mutual problems.

Search Begins For Homemaker Of Tomorrow

Tuesday of this week Campbell High senior girls of Mrs. Adele Charlson's homemaking classes competed for Betty Crocker's annual search for the "Homemaker of Tomorrow". This is the fourth year General Mills has sponsored the contest and offered scholarships totaling $106,000.

The girls were tested with multiple choice and subjective questions to determine their attitudes and knowledge in ten major areas of homemaking.

The girl with the highest score will be named Homemaker of Tomorrow for her school and receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York. She will then be entered in state competition for $1,500 and $500 scholarships to be awarded each state winner and runner-up, respectively.

The 48 state winners and representatives from the District of Columbia will receive an expense-paid tour to Washington, D.C., Williamsburg, Virginia, and New York where the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced at a banquet April 17 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000.

Girls ranking second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

St. Paul's Chapel of Trinity Church in New York, erected in 1776, is the oldest public building on Manhattan Island.

Camp Fire and Blue Bird News

Camp Fire and Blue Bird leaders of the Campbell district meet today, December 5, at the home of Mrs. Harry Story, 81 Catalpa Lane, Campbell, at 10 a.m.

—o—

The luncheon sponsored by the Wa-Di-Ta-Ka Camp Fire Girls in November at the Library Building netted about $20 instead of the anticipated $75.

The girls sent an expression of thanks to Campbell and Los Gatos leaders whose cooperation kept the group treasury from suffering a loss and to the mothers who helped serve and the Campbell Cab Company who sponsored an ad.

The group considers Attorney Martin Walsh a very brave man. He was the only man to show up at the luncheon.

—o—

Another group whose treasury benefitted from outside help is the Kani Adowan Camp Fire Girls. Two "Gift 'n Gadget" parties given for their benefit netted a little more than $20.

—o—

Dr. Leslie Jauncey, finance chairman of the Santa Clara County Council board, reports the Camp Fire debt for Camp Wastahi, which was $12,000 in September, is now only $2,500! Much of this was paid off by individual contributions. If anyone is considering a donation, now is the time to do it; it's tax deductible.

The Happy Blue Birds of Hamilton School have adopted a cancer patient at the County Hospital to be their friend. The third graders are trying to brighten the doys of an elderly woman who otherwise would be lonely. Miss Helen is 70 years old. Both will benefit from this friendship; she will receive little remembrances from her new friends and they will have a greater appreciation for the aged.

—o—

The Kani Adowan group wish to correct an error in the last column about their outdoor sponsor. Mr. Iva Archey is the group's very able and interested sponsor.

—o—

The Wa-Di-Ta-Ka Council recently was the guest of Mrs. Fern Fellman of Shetland Acres, Almaden. The girls took a sack lunch and, directed by Mrs. Fellman and Lynette, took a hike around the ranch that led them up and down hills and over some lovely terrain. They all gathered things for future projects such as nature pictures. To complete their day, the girls rode the ponies and were shown some of the horses valued at $2,500.

Transportation was provided by Mesdames Orville Johns. Fred Wergin, Ron Thorpe, and William Rogers.

The United States' per capita consumption of paper for packaging has increased from about 50 pounds in 1932 to about 200 pounds now.

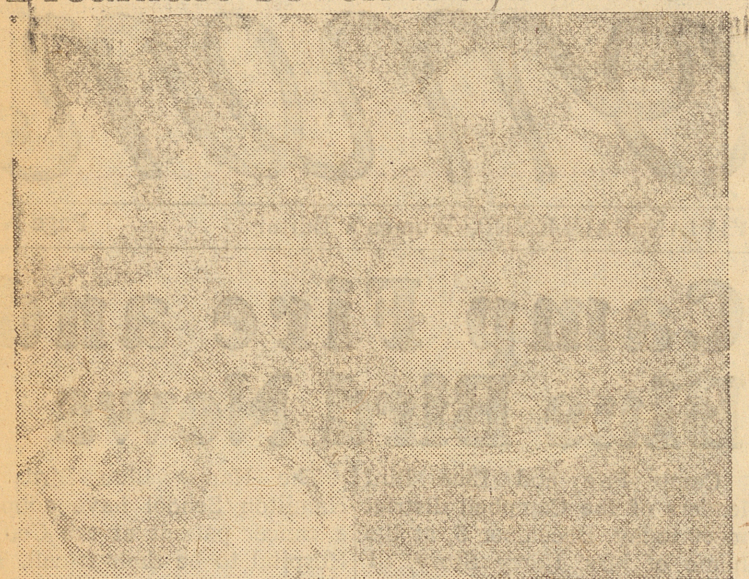
Serve Sunday Morning Breakfast Seven Days a Week



Why is it that Sunday morning breakfast always seems more 'extra special' than any other breakfast during the week? Even your family senses this. They wander into the kitchen asking "What's for breakfast?" They know there's going to be something different for breakfast that morning—maybe flapjacks, waffles or hot breads. This Sunday morning feeling is rather an old fashioned one in this modern day of so many wonderfully easy ready-mixes. That expansive 'Sunday morning feeling' can last throughout the week. Piping hot corn muffins have always been a Western Favorite—served plain with sweet, golden butter or with your special preserves. In addition to serving them plain, there are many delicious variations that can be achieved with very little effort. Here are a few of these suggestions to put that 'Sunday morning' smile on your family's face.

READY MIX CORN MUFFINS

(makes about 8 medium muffins)

1 8-ounce package Albers Corn Muffin Mix
1 egg
½ cup milk

Combine Albers Corn Muffin Mix with milk and eggs in bowl. Mix until smooth (about 1 min.) Place 1/4 cup batter in each of 8 well-greased muffin tins. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 15-20 minutes.

ORANGE MUFFINS: Add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind to batter before baking.

PINEAPPLE MUFFINS: Add 1/4 cup well-drained canned crushed pineapple to batter before baking.

BACON MUFFINS: Add 1/4 cup chopped crisp bacon (about 2 slices) to batter before baking.

TENDER SOUR CREAM MUFFINS: Use 1/2 cup sour cream instead of 1/2 cup milk in preparing Albers Ready Mix Corn Muffins.

El Paradiso PTA Adds Two Schools To Council

Clarence Neal, president of the new Elvira Castro School PTA, was welcomed into El Paradiso Council PTA by Mrs. B. L. Pinner, president, at the November 18 meeting at Saratoga-Fruitvale School. With the additions of Castro and Bucknall Schools, both newly admitted, the Council is now composed of 22 units.

Guests were Mrs. Gary Watanobe and Mrs. Kermit Eckert, president and vice president, respectively, of the Cupertino Council.

Mrs. Eckert reported on the work the Sixth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers is doing to help the blind and near blind students. With three schools in this area teaching blind students (Monroe, Quito, and Camden High) she said help is desperately needed to make and bind Braille books.

Mrs. Vince Garrod talked briefly on the Red Cross' need for volunteer nursing and on ways to start first aid classes.

Another report on the needs of the Council's "Clothes Closet" was given by Mrs. Hanses Murray. She said clothing in the 7 to 10 year old group is most needed.

After the business session, a film and talk on the Camp Fire and Blue Bird program was given by Mrs. Richard Black, field director for this area.

The Council's next meeting will be January 13, at Strawberry Park School at 7:30 p.m.

Following discussion of programs, Mrs. Albert I. Sloan of Saratoga will display Christmas decorations made of odds and ends found around most homes.

Current Cambrianette programs include Christmas gifts and decorations, painting and sketching, conversational Spanish and sewing.

Meetings are open to married women in the 18 to 35 age bracket and are held each Tuesday at the Methodist Church of Cambrian Park from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Program director is Mrs. Roy Chittick of the YWCA staff.

Finds Life Different

Campbell Bride Living in Germany Describes Her Exciting New Home

Editor's note: Once again The Press considers itself fortunate to have found another "foreign correspondent", this time a G.I. bride now living in Germany.

The former Karla Edsinger, daughter of Mrs. Ed Edsinger of 522 Apricot Way, flew to Hanau, Germany, July 27, and was married to Pvt. Robert Johnsen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Kristian Johnsen of Agnew. Both young people were students at San Jose State College last year.

The following letter reflects her excitement at the strangeness of a new country.—V. F.

KARLA JOHNSEN
. . . Living in Germany

By Karla (Edsinger) Johnsen

Hanau is wonderful! It's exciting! Everything in Europe is so different! I keep being surprised by new things.

Hanau has a population of 100,000. It was completely leveled during the war by Americans. Hospitals, schools and churches were bombed and only 200 persons were left alive..

Scars of War

The scars of the war are everywhere and the city is in a constant state of reconstruction. Walking down one of the main streets you can see a fairly modern building, next door is the ugly frame of a bombed-out church,next to that is a little shop built out of rubble with pieces of brick, stone and cement clinging to the wall surfaces. Sometimes it looks as though they swept up the rubble from off the streets and used it to build again.

Down the street are several bombed-out mansions. Dirt and debris has piled up inside to halfway up the first floor windows. Here grass, weeds and little trees have taken root and little children use such places as these for playing.

And so the story goes throughout Hanau. You can not look in any direction without seeing the devastating results of the war. Even if you don't look you can feel it in the gaze of the people.

Frankfurt is different. It is big and new and very modern. and probably compares with Los Angeles in population.

Odd Discovery

I have discovered something odd. I look very German. People are constantly mistaking me for a German girl yet when I look around I can see why. I am blonde, my frame is fairly large and my facial structure is definitely German. Everytime Bob and I go anywhere together the people speak to him in English and then turn to me and speak in German.

I will have to learn to speak fluent German. It will be a big help in buying on the German market. Prices are always higher for Americans and besides, you can usually argue the prices down pretty easily.

We moved into an apartment Monday morning. We found this one through the chaplain and it is only $30 a month. There is only one room but it has private bath and kitchen, with hot water and steam heat. It isn't exactly beautiful but it can be fixed up.

Our landlord and landlady live downstairs and are very nice people. They treat us as if we were their grandchildren. They don't seem to feel the hate for Americans that so many Germans do. They speak no English at all but Bob and I are learning German at an amazing speed. We really do very well.

Apartments are Different

The apartments in Germany are different than those in the States. Let me tell you about ours. First of all they don't have double beds in Germany. Everybody has twin beds which they push together. Actually, it's too bad because it makes for such a large bed that it takes up most of the room. They don't have closets either, instead they have wardrobes which are small with very little room for clothing. We have a tiny kitchen sink with no drainboard and a stove with three burners but only two work. It's a lot of fun but it's kind of like camping out.

The German people just aren't used to the luxuries we Americans have at home. By German standards our apartment is wonderful. Most do not have private bath and kitchen. Hot water is rare and steam heat is almost unheard of.

Chimney Sweeps

Oh, I must tell you about the chimney sweeps. They ride down the streets on their bicycles carrying their ladders and tools, dressed in formal black evening wear with their hands and faces blacker yet with soot. The funniest part of all is that they always wear tall black top hats. They are really very amusing and look like a comic character for a book.

I keep looking for problems to come, but none does. Our only problem is that I am having a little trouble cooking. Last night I fixed pork chops and don't know what I did wrong but they were hard as rocks. I won't admit to Bob that I don't know how to cook, but I think he suspects.

Sometimes I feel so inadequate. I don't know the first thing about being a housewife over here. Everything is so different. For one thing, the water is so hard that it leaves a scum on everything, including me. I've made friends with another American wife whose landlady speaks English so I'll ask her what to do.

Junior Symphony Concert Tonight

San Jose Junior Symphony Orchestra will present its eleventh concert tonight in Concert Hall at San Jose State College at 8 p.m. Robert Hare, assistant professor of Music will conduct. There is no admission charge.

The orchestra personnel includes some seventy-eight junior and senior high school students from San Jose, Los Gatos, Campbell, Sunnyvale, Fremont, Gilroy, Morgan Hill, as well as a number of valley parochial schools.

L. G. Art Center Features Ceramist

Dr. Herbert Sanders, nationally known ceramist of San Jose State College's art department, will be the featured December exhibitor in the ceramics gallery of the Los Gatos Art Association, Austin Way and Lancaster Road near Quito Fire Station.

Also showing at the gallery throughout December is an exhibit by the Santa Cruz Art League. Both exhibits are open to the public without charge each Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Cub Pack Honors Den Mothers

Cub Pack 75 honored Mesdames Wigginton and Atkinson and presented them with gifts in appreciation of their outstanding service as den mothers at the November 22 pack meeting at Rosemary School.

Scouts pins were presented to Jack Glasgow, Bill Vassar and Paul Borg in recognition of their active participation in pack projects.

"Cub Scout Achievement Show" was the November theme for the pack and included an outstanding exhibit of Flag achievement by Mrs. Neal Royer's Den 7.

Ray Bronson and John Bishop conducted the Bobcat induction ceremony for Kent McLain, Bobby Russell, Eddie Gundy, Stephen Yeager, Gary La Morte, Jeffrey Cochran, David Howard, Steven Miller, Milo Drussai, Glen Mason, and Billy Brown.

Terry Younger and John Carter were advanced to Wolf rank; Jimmy Pinkston, Ralph Wigginton and Allen Royer achieved Lion rank.

Pat Kolstad and Brian Borg received gold arrows.

Timmy Pinkston was made denner of Den 1 and will be assisted by his twin brother Jimmy Pinkston. Jimmy Chernoff and Craig Skillman are the new denner and assistant, respectively, for Den 2.

Gene Fox and Jeff McKinley became Webelos and were welcomed to Troop 28 by Scoutmaster Jim Stevenson.

Hayshakers to Visit Squirrels

If you're planning to go square dancing at Dover School Monday night, don't.

The Dover "Hayshakers" are going up to Ben Lomond to dance with the "Redwood Squirrels" and take along their caller, Lou Hughes, to assist the Ben Lomond caller.

The Hayshakers are busy combing the hayseeds out of their hair and being very bright and bushy-tailed about it all in anticipation of a fun-filled evening with their frisky friends.

Plans for the following Monday evening, December 16, call for a "party night". The evenings of the 23rd and 30th will draw byes, as the holidays slow down the activities for a while.

GOOD PLUMBING SERVICE COSTS LESS THAN YOU THINK!
"A 24 HOUR RESTAURANT NEEDS
24 HOUR Plumbing Service"

For residents of Gilroy or travelers passing through, Chris' All Night Restaurant at 909 North Monterey is a favorite eating place at any hour around the clock. This popular spot is owned and operated by Mrs. Phebe Christophersen who is quick to point out that "when you run a 24 hour business, 24 hour plumbing service is an important necessity." In fact only recently, Mrs. Christophersen had to make a middle-of-the-night call to her licensed plumbing contractor to clear the grease trap in the main waste line and thanks to his emergency service call her restaurant business continued uninterrupted.

Good plumbing service costs less than you think. Whenever you buy, repair, install or remodel, call a licensed plumbing contractor.

Each adjustment means one less chance of something causing an accident. For your family's sake, and your own peace of mind, take your car in for a pre-Christmas tune-up. Every woman loves jewelry and knows that it can add that special point of difference to her costume. There are pearls and diamonds set in earrings, necklaces, and rings that will be the center of attraction in any woman's jewel case.

One way to have Christmas at your house all year long is to invest in a gift for your home. One wonderful way is to reupholster your furniture. Choose a lovely fabric, printed or plain to add a spot of brightness to a room, and then let the experts at LUKE'S TRIM SHOP take over.

One chair redone will give a whole room a new appearance. Or perhaps you'd like your complete set done. You can have the look of a completely new living room suite for a fraction of the cost.

We can't think of a gift a boy or girl would use more than a bike. The first thrill of a new bicycle on Christmas is unequalled. From under the tree, it goes to school all of the remaining year. When spring comes along, it's the perfect time to cycle with a group of friends. On into the summer, a bike goes to picnics, swim parties, or just out "bike riding." Fall of course, calls the bike back as school transportation.

The CAMPBELL - CAMBRIAN CYCLERY has the best selection of bikes and trikes around. You can pick one out now and put it on layaway. Take advantage of their trade-in allowance too, and save money.

One of the nicest gifts you could give your family is the gift of comfort and health. The COUNTY SHEET METAL CO. offers you this all wrapped up in one package with a wall thermostat. All year round yours will be the comfort of constant heat without periods of chill or over heating. And without the inconvenience of having to turn the heat up or down every few minutes. Avoid colds and chilly discomfort with a phone call to CY 7-2134 or FR 8-2072.

Now you can take advantage of Blendwell's 1, 2, 3 Plan and save money. For $1 a yard you can have custom made draperies including the labor, hooks, weights and crinoline. For $2.95 a square yard you get a tight twist, viscose tweed carpeting. Or, there's luxury wool carpeting for $3.95 a sq. yard. Besides this value, you receive service. Call for a free home decorator estimate. You can have all this for nothing down and 36 months to pay.

Holiday time is good eating time. For the extra guests you are expecting during the season, be sure to have a treat on hand. One of the best and certainly the easiest of desserts to serve is ice cream. If it is ice cream for M&M where they make their own, you'll know it's "company good."

Try Holiday-fruit. A delicious combination of peaches, pineapple, cherries, raisins, & almonds in rich, smooth ice cream. Or try Egg-nog ice cream. Served by itself it's a creamy delight. Or add a dip to a tall glass of egg nog and top with a red and a green maraschino cherries for a Santa-Soda.

For something else special, try the brand new flavor of Blueberry ice cream. And you needn't worry about the children eating too much. It's one of the most wholesome and nutritious foods you can serve.

It is a wonderful idea to give that do-it-yourselfer tools for Christmas. For a man who enjoys fixing things as his hobby or as a necessary job around the house, fine tools make those jobs even more enjoyable. The CAMPBELL LUMBER COMPANY has a wonderful selection of tools, some in gift packages. There are Stanley tools and other fine brands and they all mean that some man won't be able to wait for something to fix. He'll be breaking things, so look out.

The CAMPBELL SHOPPING CENTER brings tidings of great joy to harrassed workers who do their Christmas shopping in the evening. The SUNSHINE CARD & TOY, Campbell's only year-round toy store, has a toy selection to drive any youngster mad with desire, so use caution.

For gifts, wrapping, cards, party and tree decorations, candy, and the other touches to brighten Christmas, you'll find them at LAUREL VARIETY AND TOYS.

NIELSEN'S JEWELERS is the place for Christmas decorations of a different sort. Baubles and bangles are the perfect gift for one who loves jewelry.

CAMPBELL DRUGS AND PHARMACY can fulfill just about any gift need you might have. It's an especially good place to answer cosmetic and toiletry wishes.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Pruning ornamental shrubs can be a simple task with proper instructions, Ask your nurseryman to help you. He may recommend a comprehensive pruning manual.

2. Bedding plants should be set in this month. Specimens of violas and calendulas (just as examples) can brighten drab winter scenes.

3. Plant those cold weather vegetables now: cabbage, onions, cauliflower, brussel sprouts, beets, carrots, turnips and swiss chard.

4. Some bulbs, such as hyacinths, tulips, ranunculus and anemones, can still be planted this month.

5. Heather can be planted now. Check with your local nursery for some favorite named varieties.

Books For Christmas

One of the most recent of the "how to" books was published this fall by the company which issues Sunset Magazine, Lane Publishing Company. Entitled "How to Grow Camellias", this new book covers the propagation and care of camellias, lists some popular varieties, and includes many helpful hints on selecting nursery stock. The California Association of Nurserymen notes that local nurseries throughout the state are supplied with copies of the new book for Christmas shoppers to look over.

"How To Grow Camellias" covers camellia growing in a manner similar to that used by the Lane staff in many older books. Many of the most popular books in this vein are stocked by local nurseries. Among the other Sunset books are "Western Garden Book" a thorough survey of gardening conditions and problems in the West; "Landscaping for Western Living"; "How to Grow Roses", a best selling rose growers handbook; "Pruning Handbook" and "How To Care For Your Lawn".

Many other gardening books are carried by local nurseries, among them comprehensive surveys of gardening from every aspect. Two of the most popular of this type have been put out by the publishers of Good Housekeeping and Better Homes and Gardens. The latter is put out in two editions, one is in a binder for later additions.

With his expert knowledge of the gardening world, the local nurseryman is always willing to help Christmas shoppers select the appropriate book for the gardeners on their list.

"Living" Christmas Trees

Californians — always eager for practical and exciting new ideas — are welcoming wholeheartedly the "living" Christmas tree concept. The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that gardeners consider the new practice instead of buying a tree that is wastefully discarded after each holiday season.

There are two variations to the practice. Some home owners select slow growing or dwarf conifers which will thrive in containers. Each year the tree, container and all, is brought indoors and decorated. The remainder of the year it becomes an outdoor attraction. Other home gardeners select their conifer especially for its use as an outdoor Christmas tree, using it inside only during its first Yule season.

Among the slow growing or dwarf conifers are several varities which make ideal "living" Christmas trees. One of the selections, the Deodar Cedar, is so widely grown in the state and so traditionally "Christmassy" in appearance, that it has long been called the California Christmas Tree. A native of the Himalayas, the Deodar Cedar provides frosty, blue-green foliage in an attractive conical shape. There is a compact type of Deodar Cedar which seldom reaches 25 feet at full maturity. This is a beautiful and distinguished lawn specimen when it has outgrown its container and has been planted outdoors.

One of the best conifers for a "living" Christmas tree is the symmetrical Norway Spruce (picea abies). This moderate grower has rich, dark green foliage and a habit open enough to make it easy to string bright Christmas lights through it.

Another conifer often recommended for use as a "living" Christmas tree is the Colorado Spruce (picea pungens), an extremely slow growing tree. It has handsome, silvery, grey-green foliage which makes a distinctive background for Yule decorations. One variation, Colorado Blue Spruce (p.p. geauca). has a bluish tinge to its foliage. Both these spruces have very regular, horizontal branches and the traditional pyramidal shape.

"Living" Christmas trees are available at local nurseries throughout the holiday season. Nurserymen have them in five gallon containers or balled in burlap. A variety of attractive containers in many sizes will also be available. Decorating the containers especially for the Yule should be as enjoyable as decorating the tree. There are many beautiful metal foils and colorful patterned cloths and papers which may be used to add a seasonal note to the container.

Three conifers which are more suitably planted outdoors after one holiday season are the White Fir (abies concolor), a typical and popular cut Christmas tree, the Single Leaf Pine (pinus monophylla) and the Scotch Pine (pinus sylvestris). Since the White Pine makes an effective and attractive hedge or specimen tree, many home owners have used the "living" Christmas tree idea to improve their landscape for years to come.

The "living" Christmas tree, while it is indoors, can be cared for as easily as any house plant. Watered carefully and kept from especially warm corners, the tree will truly brighten the holidays—and be a joy all year long.

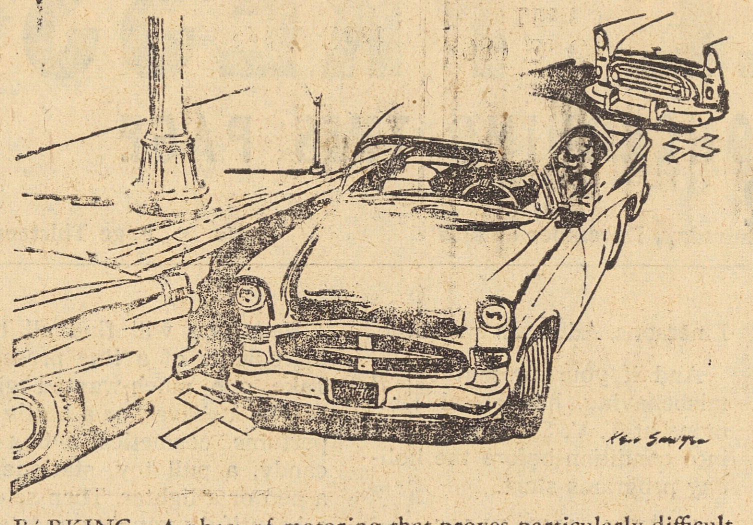
Christmas Merchandise

Whether you call someone on your shopping list "hard to please" or "discriminating" depends largely on how fond you are of the individual friend or relative. Whichever term you use, a gift order may answer that "what to give" question. Nursery merchandise orders in all amounts are now issued by many local nurseries throughout the state.

There is always a wide selection of items from which the recipient of a gift order may choose, says the California Association of Nurserymen. The selection includes indoor and outdoor plants, gardening tools and gadgets and gardening "how to" books.

Among the indoor plants from which selections may be made are African Violets, Poinsettias, Philodendrons and various species of ivy. There are innumerable outdoor plants, but two popular plants blooming in winter give the shopper the opportunity to see the flowers on the shrubs he purchases: early camellias and azaleas.

Women At The Wheel



PARKING—A phase of motoring that proves particularly difficult for women is parking. Two general rules that will facilitate getting in and out of limited areas, suggests the California State Automobile Association, are: 1) Back into a space rather than "nose" into it, and 2) Leave enough space in front so that if you get hemmed in from the rear you will still be able to get out with a minimum effort.

Camp Fire Girls Fete Mothers

Ki-Kwa-Han-Ya Camp Fire Girls entertained their mothers royally Monday at the home of their leader, Mrs. Catherine Nevin, 664 Old Orchard Road.

The occasion was a ceremonial elevating members of the group to Woodgatherer rank and awarding of earned honors and beads.

For the festivities, the girls spent the previous Sunday making candy, cookies and cupcakes to serve at their party with home-made punch. After the ceremony, the girls entertained by singing five new action songs.

The group was organized four years ago at Cherry Lane School wih eight second grade girls and Mrs. Nevins as leader.
